Hey amigo I'm assuming we wait until May or June to start confirming switch overs out west. I have folks I trust that may need a little forward heads up?

I'm shooting for June if they don't send me packing before then if they find out they will and I will head west to get shops done and dealers visited

Im to the point that I don't care when I leave but I owe it to the dealers drivers and builders and everyone else to have as much of it done and ready to go as possible so it keeps financial strain to nothing or minimum.

I've played it out several times in my head and I don't know what will happen the one thing that I do know is that we should be doing 3 million a month in Arizona and I've got 2 more people that are wanting to do shops in Arizona

I honestly believe they will concede the west I have thought and thought but don't believe they can recover. I think the only logical step would be to focus on FL.
